

Please add the following Abstract on page 15, as shown below:

ABSTRACT

A transmission of the toroidal race rolling traction type, including ratio varying components ("variators") for such transmissions. A set of rollers transmitting traction between an input disc and an output disc is connected to a hydraulic mechanism by which it is positioned, the roller position determining the transmitted ratio.